

Horizons Canadian Large Cap Equity Covered Call ETF (CNCC)

Market Review

Canadian equities, as measured by the S&P/TSX Capped Composite Index, returned 6.76% in the first quarter (Q1) of 2024. The significant positive performing sectors were Industrials, Information Technology, and Energy, while the bottom 3 performing sectors were Real Estate, Consumer Staples and Consumer Discretionary.

The Bank of Canada (BoC) held its target overnight interest rate at 5% as it continued its quantitative tightening policy. In the fourth quarter of 2023, the economy grew more than expected although still being below its long-run potential. Inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI) eased to 2.9% in January, and the BoC expects inflation to remain at this level for the first half of the year before easing. It is seeking further easing in core inflation as it continues to work towards its goal of restoring price stability.

Quarter in Review

During Q1, the top three performing stocks were the National Bank of Canada (12.93%), the Bank of Nova Scotia (10.45%), and the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (9.11%). The bottom three performing stocks were Toronto-Dominion Bank (-3.35%), Bank of Montreal (-0.97%), and Royal Bank of Canada (-3.02%).

Outlook and Positioning

Into the next quarter, the covered call strategy is favourably positioned to potentially provide value from a yield, hedging and upside capture perspective in the current environment. Each month, call options are dynamically written on XIU or HXT. In Q1, the fund wrote slightly out-of-the-money (OTM) options on the iShares S&P/TSX 60 Index ETF and/or the Horizon S&P/TSX 60 Index ETF (currently known as Global X S&P/TSX 60 Index Corporate Class ETF), which yielded roughly 5.4% each month for Q1. The premiums generated from the option writing strategy have remained steady for the last year and may continue for the next quarter.
